THE FRAILTY OF HUMAN NATURE.

All men have frailties, and whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks.—Aristotle.

VISITING made, including Miss Beatrice Clark of Oklahoma City and Miss Helen Le Flore of Alaska, who are Miss Pauli Arthur's guests, will be honored at a business party which Miss Arthur has planned for this afternoon.

After the business program, the party will be taken for refreshments down town. Invitations for the afternoon are to the Misses Leona Galbreath, Frances Broach, Ruth Seiditz, and Mary Delaney, and Mrs. Ralph Davis. Mrs. A. Arthur, mother of the hostess, and Mrs. W. W. Stouckley will be chaperones.

Wheeler-Brown.
Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock at Holy Family Catholic church the marriage of Miss Marie Wheeler and Mr. Walter Brown was celebrated. The service being marked by simple beauty and impressiveness. Nuptial vows were read by Father John J. Hieronimus, assisted by Father Joseph Golden acting as altar servers. In the presence of the members of the bride's family and a few intimate friends. A choir composed of the Misses Josephine Irwin and Agnes Dunigan and Messrs. J. A. Hogan and William Coulthart sang the Ave Maria and Benediction. Miss Lucia Janice was at the organ.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Florence Scully of Haskell, while Mr. Brown's best man was Mr. Dan Wheeler, the bride's young brother. The bride was attractively attired in a dress of white chiffon tulle and a hat of white. Her flowers were a corsage of lilacs of the valley, and she carried her first communion prayer book. Miss Scully wore a dress of reefer green georgette crepe and carried American beauty roses.

After the service the bridal party went to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick William Wheeler, on South Boulder avenue, where a wedding breakfast was served. The table was prettily decorated to effect a note of pink and white, carried out in gladioli, tuberoses and valley lilacs. Covers were laid for the members of the bridal party, the bride's parents, her aged grandfather, Mr. E. J. Brennan, Messrs. and Mesdames E. J. Brennan, Mr. J. H. Butler, D. O. McCormick, P. H. Brennan and their families, Miss Thea McMillan, Father Hering, Messrs. Earl T. Miller, J. J. Shughnessy and Ambrose Corcoran, the choir members and altar servers.

MUST JOIN UNION OR FACE TROUBLE

Farmers of Warner Get Warning Messages With Death Heads Drawn On Them.

Special to The World.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., August 8.—Notices tacked to the doors of various farmers' homes in the vicinity of Warner warning them that if they do not join the workers' class union within thirty days that they will be forced to join, are causing uneasiness among the farmers in that vicinity and Sheriff McCreary of McIntosh county is investigating.

One of the men who has received such notice is W. B. Beck, one of McIntosh county's first representatives in the legislature. He found his notice tacked to a gatepost. It read as follows: "To W. B. Beck, Notice to the people that don't belong to the W. C. U. They have got to join us. The W. C. U. is called the Working Class Union. We hereby notified you to come in and join our lodge inside of thirty days if not we have got a way to make you join. Take warning, the W. C. U."

On the back of this note was drawn a skull and bones.

Beck says he will kill any man who attempts to interfere with his rights and liberties under the constitution. Others who are said to have received the same notice are arming themselves and are prepared to resist any attempt to carry out the threats contained in the notes.

PALACE

Blanche Sweet, the popular idol of the screen, will be seen at the Palace tomorrow and Friday in the Jesse L. Lasky production on the Paramount program of "The Duke" written especially for her by Heeler Turbill and prepared for the screen by Margaret Turnbull. Blanche Sweet, in her ability alone, has right to be one of the most distinguished artists of the silent drama. The Lasky company has given her many different roles to portray, she has been a child of the slums, a Russian anarchist, a maid of all work, a belle of society, and in "The Duke" she is seen as the social secretary to a capricious and flighty society woman. The story tells how, as a courtship young girl she secures employment as a social secretary in a wealthy family. The wife, madly in love with a young society man, becomes jealous of his attentions to her assistant. Wishing to rid herself of her husband and compel the young man to marry her, she succeeds in placing the girl in a compromising position with her husband, where she is also seen by the man she loves. How the affair is adjusted and she eventually is united with the one whom she loves, is presented in a most unusual and attractive manner. The play holds the attention of the audience in tense suspense during the entire five reels. Miss Sweet is surrounded by an all-star cast of unusual excellence, including such distinguished artists as Ernest Joy, Veda McEvoy and Thomas Meighan.

NO BEAUTY DOCTOR CAN DO MORE FOR MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

Lincoln, Illinois.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very hot weather seemed more than I could stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before. My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with your medicine when needed before my other children came and they are all healthy. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction. She had her last child when nearly 44 years old and feels confident she never would have carried him through without your help, as her health was very poor."—Mrs. F. CLOYD, 1355 North Gulick Ave., Decatur, Ill.

Expectant mothers should profit by Mrs. Cloyd's experience, and trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Free confidential advice had by addressing Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
